EDITORS PAGE

Dear Readers,

Since the last Quickmatch we have had our AGM at the Club and as a result of the subsequent reshuffle I have taken over as Publicity Chairman from Anthony Arber who has moved onto be Secretary. There is a complete list of committee members of the Club at the foot of the page.

As a result of this change in editorial management there has been some small changes to the content of Quickmatch, with Fred Bassett finally making it past the gates, although he may make a guest appearance in a future issue. The bunnies have also hopped off or could it be scared off by "Len the Teeth"; one of the Quickmatch's new stars.

There was a good response to the competitions set by Andy Carter and Bob McGuchan with the winners being Mrs Y. Allen and Lily Green. If you would like to try and catch me at the Club (Bingo Sunday I'm behind the bar) can claim your prize.

Although I have received a number good articles for this issue I have had a lack of non-regular contributions from the apathetic masses, and once again it is the stalworths who are supplying the material. I would be pleased to receive articles (on any subject) from people who have never contributed to Quickmatch.

Final I would like to welcome our new members to the Club (Aftab Ahmed, Micheal Elborough, Sharon Gumble, Deidre Hallam, Mick Kerr (Melva) Dawn Gilbert and Janet Newport) and hope that they us and enjoy the facilities that the Club offers. I would also like to thank the Publicity Committee and the contributors for helping prepare this issue. The spelling pun on page 11 was intended, and the computer developed a ssstutter on page 7.

CHAIRMAN'S REPORT

For those of you whose missed it we had the CLUB AGM last month. Despite our recurrent fears we did manage to get a quorum for the meeting and my thanks to the 37 members that attended - incidentally, did you know we now have 395 Full voting members?

The Club Secretary is now Anthony Arber and our thanks are due to Adrian Francis for all the work he has done in the last 5 years as Secretary. Fortunately Adrian was elected as a committee member so we will not lose his expertise. He will also retain the Chairmanship of the Membership Sub-Committee so any enquires regarding membership should still be addressed to him. Our thanks to Valerie Evans and Win Yeandle who stood down this year and to Ian Griggs who worked so hard as the Social Chairman over the last 3 years. Bill Coe has taken on the onerous task of Social and in the "reshuffle" Dave Service has taken over Publicity. We welcome one new Committee Member, Dave Catten, who I am sure will be an asset to the Committee. It is pleasing to have a representative from P2 on the committee. Full details of the new Committee can be found on page 2.

As stated at the AGM the future of the Club is still very uncertain and entirely beyond our control. Nevertheless we shall carry on as best we can but it does make any forward planning very difficult. There are several projects for improving the Club in the pipeline but we are very loath to commit the Club to any large expenditure at this time.

There is one aspect of the Club which must be considered despite the uncertainty mentioned above and that is the general condition of the premises. The Club Bar has been decorated in the last year and I note that it is showing signs of wear. With the use that the Club gets it is inevitable that this is going to happen but the rate of deterioration should not be as great as is evident. I am sorry to say that this is due to the lack of care and the irresponsibility of members. It appears to be a fairly general attitude of the members that they bear no responsibility for the Club premises and that it is all "someone else's problem" - well it isn't; it's every member's problem, so please take more care of our Club.

Chairman - Norman Paul

"D. H. RICHARDS"

(1931 - 1986)

All Club members must, by now, have heard of the untimely death of "Rick". As many of you know Rick was a staunch member of the Club. It was under his guidance as Chairman that the renovations of the old Club rooms took place and, although we seem to have outgrown those premises, this first development of the original "hole in the wall" to a pleasant versatile club building was a major achievement to which Rick contributed his all. Whether at work or at play he put his whole enthusiasm into it and his enthusiasm was infectious. By his example he carried others to greater heights than they had considered possible. Whatever position, project or responsibility he took, he took fully. Despite his high position at work Rick never lost what he called the common touch. Not for him the mantle of rank or status. Many came to him with their problems and none were ever turned away. He always said that respect had to be earned, it didn't come automatically with the job and he himself was certainly respected by all those who knew him. More than respected he earned our love which will not be diminished by his death. As a epitaph this thought is expressed so well in the lines by his compatriot, Dylan Thomas;

*"Though lovers be lost love shall not;
And death shall have no dominion."*

Rick - You will be sadly missed and long remembered.

THE NORTH SITE S.S.S.I.

What is a SSSI you may ask?, it is a Site of Special Scientific Interest - nothing to do with the work here but from a Nature Conservation point of view. We did have two SSSIs and recently some RARDE personnel interested in conservation had a meeting with the MCD Conservation Officer Lt. Col. Clayden and a representative from the Nature Conservancy Council (NCC) about renotification of the sites. The SSSI on the South Site contained a number of Orchid plants but these are much reduced due to the land drying out and the encroachment of the birch trees. This site is not being renotified. The north site SSSI is however being renotified, it consists of the large areas of woodland excluding the occupied buildings. This is the largest area of woodland in the Lee Valley Park and was originally an alder plantation to provide charcoal for gunpowder manufacture. The alder and willow trees provide home and food for many insects that birds eat and the alder seeds provide yet more food, resulting in more than a hundred species of birds being recorded. This is in addition to its undisturbed nature, i.e. the security fence to keep the public out! This has allowed heronry to develop there, this year about 26 nests are occupied which makes it the largest heronry in Essex.

It is for these reasons that the area has been designated a SSSI. Unfortunately it is becoming invaded by sycamore trees - not native to Britain. These do not have easily edible seeds and only support half a dozen or so insect species. If allowed to increase too much they would destroy the value of the site. The NCC in their recommendation for the management of the site would like to see the sycamore trees removed and some of the alder coppiced as was done in the days of gunpowder manufacture. This presents practical problems - even if money was found, as the herons have very long nesting seasons and they need mature trees to nest in. Work could only be done in October, November and December so as not to disturb the herons which would result in them not nesting.

Part of the interest of the area is the ponds and waterways and these must not be filled in. The north site contains two listed buildings and seven scheduled ancient monuments. These and other disused buildings provide valuable bat and owl roosts something lacking in many modern buildings.

Lt. Col. Clayden was also interested in the meadow lands on the north site as they are becoming rare as farmers spray their fields with herbicides etc. When allowed to grow for hay and cut for hay in the late summer many wild flowers flourish. In total on the north and south sites about 250 species of flowering plants and ferns have been identified (anyone know anything about mosses and lichens?!).

The north site has it's Bee Orchids these while not being very rare are certainly not common. Lt. Col. Claydon commented that at Fort Halstead the grass cutting bill was considerably reduced by not cutting certain areas as frequently, much to the advantage of the wild flowers as well as the exchequer!

This has just been a brief summary of the meeting we had. If the Lee Valley Park eventually takes over the north site woodland I feel they should have a useful nature reserve. It is certainly great to work in an area of open spaces where I can go bird watching at lunchtime, not that I am an expert by any means.

I ASK YOU - 2p A DAY ?

Well! What do I get from the Club? I mean, I pay my subscriptions and what has the Club ever done for me? 2p a day it costs me and what do they do I ask you? Well, yes there's a bar and I do suppose that the prices are a bit cheaper than the pub down the road, and there's snooker and pool and darts but what else does it do for me. I mean what..... well yes, there's discos and dances but..... Yes, and Barbeques and Fashion shows but..... yes!... yes!..., and Bingo and Bowls but I ask you! what else does the Club do for me. What? Oh yeah, there's outings of course but..... what?... yes there are all the Sub-Sections like Football and Tennis and Badminton and Sailing what? Oh! Of course there's Squash and Bridge and Chess.... no, I haven't forgotten Croquet ... and Fishing..... Yes! and Sea Fishing and Cricket and Rifle Shooting. But apart from all that what else does the Club do for my 2p a day?

SOCIAL

It's happened! The one fear of a social committee is that after all the planing for a function, to have the audience sitting waiting and the act does not arrive.

This happened to us for the first time on the Blaster Bates evening in May. The excuse he gave to us was that after driving all the way from north Cheshire to Barnet, he could not find the way from there to Waltham Abbey and returned home. As we had given him a map of the route and our telephone number, it seems a feeble excuse. Personally I don't think that he left that afternoon. If he did, he will waste a lot of money of money on petrol until he learns how to use a telephone. We would like to apologise to those people who bought tickets for this function and were dissapointed.

On a happier note our first two Discos this year have been well attended,as was the March Fashion Show. Many thanks to Iris Mezen and Val and Ian Griggs for the running this event in my absence.

Two new functions were tried this spring, both I think will become regulars in the Social calender.

The first was the Race Night arranged by Barry Barrett, and attracted a smallish crowd, but they more than made up for this by really enjoying themselves. (a tip from the horses mouth) If you want to make money come to the next Race Night in September and copy the bets that Ken Thomas and his gang put on and you can't go wrong.

The other new event was the Charity Quiz Night (a Norman Paul Production). Again we would have liked to have seen more people but it turned out to be a good evening for a good cause. We raised a total of £150 for the Guide Dogs Association.

NOT CLIFF RICHARDS

Due to success of the NOT BLASTER BATES NIGHT (bar takings well up for a Tuesday night) the Social Committee is considering a NOT CLIFF RICHARDS NIGHT. It will be run on the same lines as the previous function, tickets will be £5 (which will be refunded) and it will be held on some quiet Monday or Tuesday. Anyone interested should contact Bill Coe.

KEEP FIT

The Keep Fit is still running (a Babs pun!). Mondays 8 to 9pm, £1 for members and £1.25 for non-members.

SPORT

BADMINTON

Badminton, after going through a lean time in February, has suddenly become very popular. It's probably due to the wet summer when only the devout tennis players such as Tim Douglas and Ron Craik will continue to play in the pouring rain. Recently Norman and Doreen Paul have joined us on Tuesday nights (Badminton grant is safe this year. Ed) to find out how the "beamless" high altitude badminton compares with the game as played in the Powdermill Club. In reality Norman is conducting a personal Sub-Section survey and the rumour is that the next Sub-Section for an "in depth" investigation is the Ladies 'Keep Fit'.

We've been pleased to welcome Deidre Hallam to Tuesday night badminton, but what about the rest of the new recruits to RO who don't live on the other side of London? why not come and play at the Sports Centre on Tuesday night between 8 and 10pm? Contact Bryan on extn 300 if you're interested.

CROQUET

Just as the weather has helped Badminton it has adversely affected Croquet. Only two playing night were possible up to the end of May. Sue Baalham has promised to play when she can discover the location of the Larsens Club. One bonus is that the use of the Croquet area for putting seems to been discontinued so there is no longer a need to plug putting holes with felt plugs. A few more croquet players would be welcome as we have a green, pink and white set of balls to play a second game as well as the standard red, blue, yellow and black set. How about it Allen Clarke and Norman Paul? (Bryan must be after Croquet funds this year as well! Ed) Contact Bryan Howard on extn 300.

DARTS

Finals night was a very enjoyable and entertaining evening with some extremely good darts thrown.

In the Ladies games Val Holloway again won the singles title. Val and Elsa won the doubles but miracles do not happen Val and John lost the mixed doubles to Norman Paul and his wife Doreen who played extremely well.

Roy Roberts won the mens single title in an exciting game against Stan Colgate. Alby Wright and Sid Whitten won the mens pairs and leftouts played very well to win the fours.

RESULTS

EVENT	WINNERS	RUNNERS UP
Mens Singles	R. Roberts	S. Colgate
Ladies Single	V. Holloway	E. Mc Farlane
Ladies Pairs	V. Holloway E. Mc Farlane	M. Wright J. Mc Gougan
Mens Pairs	A. Wright S. Whitten	M. Leonard T. George

INTER SECTION LEAGUE

The winners for the second year running were the Delta Stars. P. R. Reunion were also the runners up for the second year.

Next year if possible we would like to see a few more entrants.

THANK YOU

Also thanks to all the chalkers and everyone else who made else who made this a very enjoyable evening and a special thanks to Tommy Harris who nipped away from a wedding to present the prizes. Keep your eyes peeled for the start of the next Knockout Competition.

FOOTBALL (PERME FC)

After a very demanding season it's nice to report that we convincingly ended up as Division 2 Champions. Our end of season league tally reads - played 26, won 20, drew 4 and lost 2. Our two losses were in double headers in which we subsequently avenged our defeats in the second games.

Thankfully we had a large enough squad to carry us through the injuries that we suffered at the end of the season. Our injury list included a broken nose, broken finger, torn ligaments, pulled hamstrings and two twisted knees, though mercifully not sustained by the same player.

We had no success in the Cup competitions although we did reach two semi-finals.

The commitment from the players was great with John Askey who suffered torn ligaments, turning up on match days on crutches, to support the rest of the team (not with crutches, but verbally). Our goalkeeper Barry Gapes (broken finger) played as an outfield player with his finger in a light support. The rest of the squad who were not playing also supported from the touchline.

Our goals for (84) and against (23) were the best in the League (4 divs). All credit to Barry in goal and to Roderick Bennet who scored 35 goals as our centre forward.

Our most consistent player who deservedly won our Player of the Year Award was David Pinnock. We finished our season off with a friendly against a team from Ipswich in which we tried our hardest to lose 4-3.

Our presentation Evening was a great success with league and Club trophies being presented by Bill Telling to the team.

BARBARA'S DIARY

18th February

Away to the Woodbine. Although we lost 5 games to 4 it was a good night with some good scores. We all scored above 60 at some time during the evening. Michele got an 80. The doubles were won by Michele 16x and Doris 17x. Brenda got us out on 9x in the fives, and Penny with 1x in the all rounder.

25th February

At home to "The Woodbine" another loss. It was 5 - 3. Iris got 134 and Daisy 76. Next week we face an unknown team, "Tesco's" at home.

4th March

I was at Spurs so I never saw our game. I was told we lost 5 games to 1 (it was probably the same score against Spurs Ed). Not a very good night as they won all of the raffle prizes.

11th March

It should have been away to "The Woodbine" but we never made it.

18th March

We made it away to "The Woodbine". It was a close match with us losing the last game. The final result was 4 - 3. The winning Ladies were Penny getting out double 2 and Iris and Michele getting out on double 1. Highest score went to Iris who got 98. Lesley, Michele, Penny, Jacquie, and Brenda all scored between 72 and 87.

25th March

The Ladies seem to get more points when I don't play. I was away last week but this week we suffered a heavier defeat 5 - 3. But our 3 points were all double 1. Brenda got out twice and Tracy got the other point. Leslie got the highest score of the night 125. Jackie Woods got 93 and Penny and Tracey got 93 and Penny and Tracey got 83. Next week we're away to the "Coach & Horse" at Cheshunt.

1st April

Another defeat. If we were in the league I think we would be relegated. Tracey got us out on double 7 as well as getting 77, 89 and 90, in our 3 - 1 loss. Iris got the highest score of 140. Michele, Doris and myself got 80 odd and Leslie hit 78. It was against the "Coach & Horses" and we played 4 games of 1001. As usual it was our finishing that let us down.

8th April

It was the "Coach & Horse" at home. Not much to report. Another loss, 5 - 1. Tracey got us to the point, double 1. Highest score of the 89 thrown by me. Iris 82 four 60 odds by Bren and Leslie.

15th April

"The Woodbine" at home. We got off on a winning start, Jackie Woods getting double 3 and the highest score of 98. The next 2 games we lost. Leslie put the score at 2 all by getting out on double 15. The other 2 games went to "The Woodbine". The only good thing is that we won a game more than last week. Penny got a couple of 70 odds a 95. Me, Bren and Michele hit one lot of 70 something and that was it. No game next week cos we are taking part in the Charity Quiz. Doubt if we can do any worse than our dart playing.

6th May

We were away to "The Woodbine". A good match it was 3 - 3 to the last game which we lost. Jackie Woods got out, Penny and Myself did the same. Highest throw of the night was Penny with a 94. Some 70's and 80's scored by J. Woods, J. Barrard and Myself. Hope to get our revenge next week.

13th May

I've lost the relevant information I think we lost 5 - 2! So for a change came second.

20th May

Game cancelled because the "Black Dees" have decide to call it a day. Perhaps they got fed because they keep losing to us. I know the feeling. If anyone knows of any local clubs or pubs who would like to play a ladies friendly game of darts please let me have the name and phone number.

Ta very much.

TENNIS

The Tennis Season got off to into full swing with some good turnouts on Sunday mornings. Thursday evening, our other club meeting seems to be a bit slow going. The courts are in excellent condition and we soon hope to have some Slazenger wind breaks courtesy of Link Sports. Our tennis coaching for all standards started Saturday 17th May and runs for six weeks to the 21st of June This proved very popular last season especially for the beginners. The mens team got off to a good start beating Rover 7 -5 at home.

good luck for the summer

PLOD DOG

Hello Len... Busy day. Nah!..... Took my pet plod for a walk about.....And you. Well last night I had a good laugh, we really worried the industrials. We opened Swingbridge Gate on time, you should have seen them go. They thought they must be late.....What about this increase in our dog licence then Captain.....Well I have this pal whose a collie and he reckons that he'll get his half price.....Yeah!.....Why's that then Captain.....He's only black and white.....Heard about the new girl in PR Len. Nah!....Who's that then.....A Miss Silest or something....Yeah!.....Last week I was taking a leak on the corner of N505 and I overheard a couple of scientist saying, "Mark Phillips has lost so many staff recently that it looks like Marie Silest up there".....Talking about the R0's, I heard that it was one of their incendiary bombs that was used on Murdoch's warehouseNah!.....Don't be stupid it worked didn't it..... That reminds me Len, he's leaving Friday!..... Who's leaving Friday?.....You know whathisname? ...See them Bunnies final got out of Quickmatch. Yeah!Scouse saw them getting a lift off a van with Dewhurst on the side Shame that...I was fond of them Bunnies.....Especially with a drop of gravy.....Well Captain I'm off down Sewardstone Gate..... See if I can scare the proverbials out of some scientist when they go for lunch..... Yeah! I'll go and wake up my plod.... anyone would think he had sleeping sickness.....Hoi Captain whose leaving Friday? Robinson Crusoe..... He doesn't work for Mark Phillips!... does he? I'll see you Len.....

Keep your tongue out.

GALLON IV

"ON HEARING THAT ONE OF OUR MEMBERS WAS SUPPOSED TO BE ON DUTY AT STONEHENGE"

No pagan rites, no boozy fights, no Summer Solstice fun
The Mod-Plod Squad will stamp it out before the fun's begun
The Plains will quake, the hippies shake, the Druids seek revenge
The local folk'll turn to drink, when Gallon hits Stonehenge.
The National Trust express disgust about the hippy set
But sending Al to guard their land could prove a greater threat.

Now, Al's careers, throughout the years, continue to amaze
And, still there's one that few will know, from Gallon's early days.
Before the MoD, before the Plod, he hadn't long left school
Al joined the local Druids League in mystic Pontypool.
Will Stonehenge stones imbue his bones with atavistic ways?
Will Al the Gal renew the thrill of early Celtic days?

Though many think that drunks and drink are evils to be banned
Consider now, how pagan rites would threaten our fair land:
Will Al return with ritual when full of magic brew
To sing strange songs and play the harp each Sunday 12 to 2
And, God forbid, if he ever did (though some would think it nice!)
If Gallon ordered, every year, a ritual sacrifice!

With Al in charge, high priestess Marge wields the fearsome blade
While barmen blubber, barmaids bawl, and pot-men stand dismayed.
The climax comes, and distant drums announce the fatal hour
The victim, prostrate upon the slab, lies prey to Gallon's power
What dreadful fate can now await, how great the wrath of Al?
A Celtic curse, or even worse, a pint of FESTIVE ALE !!!

POLICE FIVE

Police One: Ray Hackett's description of his wife as "a smashing little driver" proved accurate when she backed his car into a wall recently. The wall was undamaged.

Police Two: If Alan Wright is Houdini, then who is The Wizard.

Police Three: Another retirement to report. This time, it's farewell to Tom Mills after eleven years service. During his time at Waltham Abbey, Tom (Blondie to his friends) spent many a lonely on night shift busily learning the intricacies of Scottish Law. As a result, he came to know more about hamesucking than he did about the Highway Code.

Police Four: Several of us have recently been on pleasant little jaunts around the countryside and have visited such picturesque spots as Molesworth, Mildenhall and Stonehenge. We may moan a bit about such excursions but at least it makes a break from Swingbridge Gate or Quinton Hill!

Police Five: Many people (ourselves included) have been trying to discover the true identity of the writer of this column. We have noticed that the new Social Chairman seems to be spending a lot of time lurking around the Police Admin Building and the Editor has been seen in the Control Room on two weekends recently. Could one of them be the mysterious scribe.

Ian Griggs Stamp of Success

Whilst I would have liked to have attended the Club AGM on Monday 12th of May, I must admit that the 'prior engagement' which necessitated my absence proved to be interesting.

It was the evening of the Civil Service Philatelic Society Annual Competition (held at Somerset House). I submitted three exhibits and was delighted when my Postal History entry dealing with the German Feldpost System in the Channel Islands was awarded the N M Jones Cup as the winner of the class.

Of my two entries in the General Class, one dealing with various unexplained postal events of the Channel Islands Occupation came absolutely nowhere. The other, however, on the subject of delays in Postal transmission, was transferred to Thematic Class at the discretion of the judges. Having taken the liberty of doing that, they then proceeded to award it first place - together with a large silver plate (the Wright Salver). As someone who never enters thematic classes I was very pleased with that. Two days before the Civil Service Competitions, my Postal History entry had also won the National Philatelic Society Postal History Trophy. In all a 'rewarding' couple of days.

With all the interest that Ian seems to have in the Channel Islands I can't help thinking that he should be called Ian 'Bergerac' Griggs!

REAL SWINGERS

Pub regulars Colin Robinson and Peter Parker have become regular fixtures at their local after 20 years of dedicated drinking.

Their portraits adorn the new sign outside the Oddfellows Arms at Astwood, Worcs. The pub's customers took part in a ballot to choose two "odd fellows" to model for their sign - and Colin and Peter won the vote.

After the above article appearing in one of the national papers it has been rumoured that the Club is dedicating a mirror to Alan Wright.

Alan do you ever think that some people are picking on you. Well you will have the Wright to reply in the next issue.

Since three pages of this issue are about members of the MOD - PLOD it makes them the largest featured section in Quickmatch, beating the usually verbose Bill almost forgot this issue Warren and Barbara Coe.

This should give encouragement to other sub-sections, we would like to hear from RARDE and RO sections.
